PRODUCE

生产工艺

Gang-saw

Cut blocks into slabs according to client's required thickness, then first inspection, pick out unqualified slabs.

Tiles polishing

Polish each qualified slab by automatic polishing machine, then second inspection, classify these polished slabs in stock according to the standard established by company.

Tiles cutting

Factories are all equipped with CNC high-speed precision infrared cutting machine. Compared to traditional cutting machine, precision and efficiency have been highly improved so as to reduce the processing cost.

Automatic drilling machine

The Automatic drilling machine has a clever structure design, which automatically picks up the shaft and does not need to be manually taken, and can drill, ream and chamfer the shaft on one device without repeat loading and unloading to perform multiple times. Saving time and effort, improving work efficiency.

Dry-lay inspection

Lay out and examine finished products before packing. Pick out products which have defects in smoothness, flatness and appearance. Make sure the veins can be connected well and the colors are uniform before making construction drawings.

Packing

Pack the finished products according to client's requirements or the export standard of the specific country.
